Inca One Announces First Gold Pour from Operations at Chala One Plant

Vancouver, B.C., November 14, 2013 – INCA ONE RESOURCES CORP. (TSX-V:IO) (“Inca One” or the “Company”) is pleased to announce that it has completed the first sale of gold rich carbon and subsequent gold pour from its operations at the Company’s 100% owned Chala One Plant located in the Region of Arequipa, 620km south of Lima, 3km off the Pan American in the town of Chala, Peru.

A total of 62.36 ounces of gold has been recovered from the first 96.77 tons of throughput at an average head grade of 22.26 G/T. An average recovery of 90.72% (20.29 g/t) of gold was realized. The mill facility currently has a capacity of 25 TPD, and Inca One continues toll milling high-grade mill feed under contracts with artisanal miners.

"This first gold pour represents a tremendous milestone for our Company and our Peruvian team who have met all performance objectives. In the early part of 2013, Inca One made its first announcement that it was pivoting from a pure exploration company to a growing cash flowing producing entity with its newly acquired gold milling facility at Chala One," said Edward Kelly, President & CEO. "We intend to ramp up to full capacity shortly, and further expand to 100 TPD by end of 2014."
